

What our customers say...

I have used recycled cardboard bedding from Barnyard Products for several years. It offers several advantages for my farm. It is more absorbent than straw. It is relatively non-allergenic for the horses skin and airways and it is easy to handle. For the farm that has a manure management plan, this cardboard bedding mulches down quickly and can be spread or used as mulch within a few months.

The shredded cardboard bedding that I get from Barnyard Products is the absolute best bedding for my horses. Through the years I have tried straw, shavings, wood pellets, and even corn cob bedding, but nothing has worked as well as shredded cardboard. It's clean, absorbent, relatively dust-free and easy to muck! I have used cardboard bedding for about ten years now and hope never to go back to any other brand. John and Daniel of Barnyard Products are dependable, friendly, honest and deliver their shredded cardboard right to my farm when needed. Their customer service is exemplary.
